CONVENTION ISSUE

president's message

Why should you attend your Association Convention? Let me count off a few reasons.

. . . To hear noted community college educator, John Roueche, inspire you toward creating a caring environment for students at your college.

. . . To meet, associate, and interact with your professional counterparts from all over the great state of Alabama.

. . . To win a valuable door prize.

. . . To hear Florida Community College Association President, Jim Kellerman, explain why you should be active in your Association.

. . . To relax and have good fun at the banquet featuring that crown prince of humor, Grady Nutt.

. . . To view 24 exhibits (all sold out!) of the latest products and services related to our institutions.

. . . To enjoy an olde tyme movie, dance ballroom style or disco, or all three after the banquet.

. . . To attend quality professional development sessions pertinent to your field of work, or attend any sessions you wish. In fact, be encouraged to attend sessions that peak your interest, whether in your field or not. The main thing is, attend!

. . . To do any or all of the foregoing and more. It's your big once-a-year meeting with an attendance goal of 1500. Be a part of it in the comfortable accommodations of the Hyatt House and Civic Center.

The Year To Date

With the present Association year rapidly building to a climactic finish in a great convention, it is fitting to take a quick look at what has been accomplished.

Early in the year a five-year plan for the Association Convention was developed and adopted. Institutional dues were increased from $25.00 to $50.00. A special committee was appointed to study and update our Constitution and By-Laws. Their fine work, as adopted by the Executive Committee, appeared in the last Newsletter and will be voted on by the membership in general session on April 20th. A special committee appointed to produce a fact folder on Association institutions was nearing completion at press time. The Association Executive Committee has supported the Council of Presidents' request to the legislature for increased support of $8.3 million over last year. Also, the Executive Committee suggested to the State Superintendent and Board of Education a plan for a percent increase to offset inflation plus an additional salary step. At Dr. Teague's recommendation, the Board authorized a proposal of a 6% general salary boost plus an additional salary step. The proposal is now on capitol hill before the legislature.

A final project undertaken by your Association was a statewide image-boosting campaign aimed at increasing prospective students' awareness of Alabama's quality two-year colleges. As of this writing some 100 outdoor sign posters paid for by the Association are being parceled out to all member institutions with the plea to our presidents to help us get them up all over the state for maximum impact. Also, a special TV spot (slides and audio) are to be mailed to 18 Alabama TV stations and radio spots are on their way to numerous radio stations across the state. All of these materials are very well done and focus on the central theme, "Alabama Junior and Community Colleges: We do it better!" This great project can go a long way toward sharpening the quality service image of our two-year colleges in the eyes of all Alabamians.

Yes, it has been a banner year for our unique, voluntary, professional and service-centered Association. Where else could we get so much for such a relatively low expenditure? I can't imagine where. And it's possible because of good people, such as: hard working Association officers and committees, all volunteers; college presidents who make it possible for these people to carry out the work; a State Superintendent, staff and governing board, all of whom give full confidence, support, and credibility to the Association; and the many individuals appointed or simply asked to perform voluntarily the hundreds of tasks required to make it all come together. It's a joy to work with you all and believe me, you've done a super job. What can I say but thanks.

See you at the Convention April 20 and 21, 1978.

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

A Closer Look At Some Of The Speakers●●●

BUSINESS FACULTY: Dr. Sarah Light will speak on "Today's Secretary in a Changing Society."

Formerly a professor at the University of Alabama in the Business and Office Education Department, Dr. Light recently transferred to the University of South Alabama as Dean of Student Services.

The secretary does function in a changing society. Present business conditions have placed a high premium on detailed information and speed. As a result, most offices have turned to automation, doing away with the manual rewriting of information beyond the first recording. In this changing society, today's secretary will need a broader concept of what business is and does.

BUSINESS FACULTY - PART TWO: Dr. Dan Linton is a Marketing Specialist with the Alabama Extension Service at Auburn University.

Only two things are certain, the old saying goes - death and taxes. Now, however, we can count on economic instability. No longer do we ask whether prices are going up; the only question is how much. "Projected Trends on Inflation and the Value of the Dollar by the year 2000" is a subject that should interest every business person.

SECRETARIES AND CLERKS: Helen Brown, Assistant Professor--Office Administration, Auburn University, will discuss "Benefits for Secretaries and Clerks in Education - Time Management." This topic will include identification of time wasters, the use of a time log, the analysis of case studies to develop an understanding of judgment factors involved in working out priorities, the use of resources, the practice of delegation, the efficient use of the time of subordinates, and the scheduling of time.

Joe Creel, Director, Program Development and Evaluation, Marshall--Jackson Mental Health

Center will also be on the program. His topic is "Effective Communication Skills." He says, "Participating in communication activities are at least two types of people. One type believes that they are controlled by circumstances around them; the other group knows that circumstances are changed or determined through individual belief and action. To which group do you belong?"

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION FACULTY: Dr. Dan Henderson, Associate Professor of Education, University of Alabama in Birmingham will discuss "Legal Implications in Health, Physical Education and Recreation." This presentation will deal primarily with tort liability as it relates to college physical education instructors. Negligence, the leading cause of lawsuits against educators, will be discussed in detail.

FINANCIAL OFFICERS: Four speakers add up to an impressive program. Dr. Reynolds Ferrante, Director of Program Support Services, Department of Educational Administration, Auburn University will speak on federal funding as it relates to two-year postsecondary institutions. He will identify the key persons in HEW to be contacted for various types of competitive federal grants. He will select and describe in detail two or three key areas in which federal funds are most readily available to two-year institutions. He will also describe the process necessary to apply for and obtain competitive federal grants.

Dr. Richard McBride, Director of the Division of Research, Planning and Dissemination, Alabama State Department of Education, will also speak. Dr. McBride has recently assumed his role with the State Department and also serves as legislative liaison. He will discuss several key issues dominating the legislature in Alabama during the 1978 legislative session. Competency based education and some form of accountability in education are issues which will be included. Continuing effort to siphon off Special Education Trust Funds for other state supported programs, and public support for private education are other crucial issues which will be discussed. Legislative mandates regarding curriculum and educational funding as well as the significance of AEA's influence on educational legislation in Alabama will be discussed.

● ● ● And Their Topics

"State Audits of Junior and Technical College Accounts" will be the topic of the Honorable William W. Dillard, Jr., Chief Examiner, Department of Examiners of Public Accounts. He will give a brief overview of the history of the Department of Examiners of Public Accounts, emphasizing the functions of the department and how these functions have changed throughout the years. Some possible future changes in function will also be discussed with emphasis on performance audits and how they will effect the content of future audit reports.

Mr. Robert Riegle, Staff Associate for the Alabama Commission on Higher Education, will discuss the scope of the energy conservation problem and will also suggest things which can be done to alleviate the problems arising from energy limitations.

HEALTH CAREERS FACULTY: "Mainstreaming the Handicapped in Alabama". Alabama, in keeping with national trends, has innovative programs for the handicapped. Don't miss hearing about them and a chance to discuss or ask questions about the new programs. The guest contributors are: Dr. David Wayne Head, Coordinator of the Auditorily and Visually Impaired Project, and Barry C. Stephens, Counselor/Evaluator of the Auditorily and Visually Impaired Project, Regional Technical Institute, University of Alabama. Their topic for presentation is, "Handicapped Individuals As a Part of the Health Care Team." Ms. Jacquelyn A. Moore, M.A.O.T.R., Director, Occupational Therapy Assistants Program, School of Community and Allied Health Resources, University of Alabama, will discuss, "Helping the Handicapped Help Themselves." Ms. Betty S. Lanier, R.N., B.S., M.S., Coordinator of Freshman level A.D. Nursing Program, J. C. Calhoun State Junior College, will also contribute to the program as moderator.

The day's planned activities will begin with tours (Free Transportation) to new health facilities in the University of Alabama's medical complex, and several door prizes will be given.

Persons planning to take advantage of the tours should address your correspondence to: Mrs. Gloria D. Hill, Chairperson, Lawson State Community College, 2915 Wilson Road, Birmingham, Alabama 35221.

COLLEGE HEALTH NURSES: George E. Rudd, M. D., Consulting Physician for Jefferson State (and President of the Jefferson County Board of Education) will discuss the ways the college nurse can better achieve her goal in administering health service to the college as a whole. He will also conduct a discussion on the topic, "Everyday Physical and Emotional Problems and How Do You Cope With Each."

ENGLISH FACULTY: Three experienced junior college teachers of composition will share their expertise. Jane Riggs, Chairman, Division of English at Faulkner State will speak on "Prewriting Strategies for the Remedial Student." Betty Thompson of Gadsden State will speak on "Prewriting Strategies for the International Student," and Leonard Rawls of Patrick Henry

State will speak on "Prewriting Strategies for the Average Student." This promises to be an outstanding program.

LIBRARIANS/LEARNING RESOURCES: Lillie C. Kinney, Reference Librarian, Onondaga Junior College, Syracuse, New York, will speak on improving library instruction in the junior college. Ms. Kinney has a remarkable enthusiasm for her subject. Her article "Librarians and Educators" in the May 1977 Community and Junior College Journal is directed largely toward a lay audience of trustees and administrators. She can, by sharing her teaching techniques, help the two-year college librarians in Alabama provide improved instruction in the use of library resources.

Also on the program is Anthony Miele, Director of the Alabama Public Library Service. He will explore areas of cooperation between the public library and the junior college library that will provide improved library service for the people of Alabama.

READING FACULTY: The speaker for this interest group is Dr. Joyce Hamrick, Director of Reading Education, Troy State University. Dr. Hamrick is also the Houston County coordinator of the MS (multiple-sclerosis) Read-a-thons. Her topic is "The Use of Formal and Informal Inventories in Reading Diagnosis." She will examine the usage, scope and limitations of formal inventories used by junior college reading programs. She will also consider the use of informal inventories -- auditory screen, visual/perceptual screen, phonetic and comprehension skills.

SECURITY: Capt. Russell Summerlin, Director, Law Enforcement Academy, University of Alabama, will be the speaker. He is a graduate of the F. B. I. Academy, a colonel in the National Guard, and has been with the State Troopers for a number of years. His topics are "Campus Police and Public Relations," and "Buildings and Office Security."

BIOLOGICAL AND PHYSICAL SCIENCE FACULTY: Dr. George L. Zorn, Jr., Specialist in Cardio-Vascular Research at U. A. B., will speak on "Recent Advances in Cardio-Vascular Surgery."

Although unavoidably printed otherwise in the Convention program, Dr. Marllin L. Simon, Department of Physics, Auburn University, and Dr. William D. Perry, Department of Chemistry, Auburn University will team up for an interesting presentation entitled, "Cheap, Easy, and Fun Classroom Demonstrations for Chemistry, Physics, and Physical Science."

COMPUTER OPERATIONS: Joe Cowan, an accountant in Albertville, will discuss "The Mini Computer -- It's Operation Within the Junior/Community College." His presentation will include the capabilities of the mini in a real time operating environment, peripheral devices, on line registration, and student record maintenance and derivative reports.

MEDIA PEOPLE: (A note from Larry Sims.) Let me urge you to attend the Public Relations interest group meeting during the Convention. We will meet at 8:30 A. M. in Dining Rooms A and B in the cafeteria of the South Central Bell Headquarters Building, 600 North 19th Street. After coffee we will tour the telephone company's production facilities. Besides being very interesting, this tour will also give us an opportunity to meet each other and discuss mutual concerns. See you there!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As a member of AJCCA, I wish to take this opportunity to inform the general membership of my intentions to run for the office of Vice-President/President-Elect at this year's convention. I am currently serving on the Executive Board of AJCCA as Vice-Chairman for Student Personnel. I feel that this year's experience as a board member, and next year as Vice-President would enable me to continue the progress AJCCA has made for the past three years in addition to providing the excellent leadership for which the association is known.

In 1973 I helped organize the Alabama Veterans Affairs Association and served as its first President. I have since served as President for a second term and Vice-President once.

I am a two-term member of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Veterans Program Administrators and also in charge of public relations and the newsletter.

I have had a great deal of experience as a board member and elected officer for different associations. My contribution to AJCCA would be to continue the idea and programs that have been established.

AJCCA must continue with the same openness and cooperative atmosphere that has made it successful to date. The creativity that has been instilled must also continue. The current board has let its wishes be known on two issues: that of appropriations and that of more steps in the pay scale along with a mandated raise due to inflation. Positive expression needs to continue, not to the extent of our becoming a lobbying organization, but to the extent needed to make our needs known.

I hope you will consider voting for me as Vice-President/President-Elect at this year's convention. I will be a write-in candidate, so it will be necessary to write my name on the ballot. I assure you that if you will take this bit of time to write-in my name, I will serve you as your most exuberant officer to date, and that, my friend, is saying a great deal!

Ron Cordell, Counselor
Gadsden State Junior College

Who's What in the AJCCA

Mrs. Williams is vice-president of the local ESPO chapter. She is a member of AEA and the Alabama School Office Personnel Association.

Connie's hobbies include cooking, reading, and ceramics. She and her husband, Roger, enjoy camping, tennis and bicycling. They are active members of the Carlisle Baptist Church.

Calhoun Chorale Wins Banquet Music Competition ...Again

For the second year in a row the Calhoun Community College Chorale has won the musical competition designed to select the performing group at the AJCCA Convention banquet. This competition, in addition to providing excellent entertainment for our banquet, offers our colleges an opportunity to display the musical excellence found within our junior and community college system.

Eleven junior and community colleges submitted a cassette recording for audition. The cassette had no identifying marks on it, so judges, as they listened, had no idea who was performing. Despite the strict anonymity of the performers, Calhoun came out on top again. The judges for this competition include two professional musicians not affiliated with any junior college and one college faculty member who is not affiliated with any college music department.

Thanks go to Joan Goree, (the coordinator for this part of the Banquet program), the judges, and congratulations to the Chorale.

Ooops...

Thanks From the Editor

This seems like an appropriate time and place (like the Walrus said) to speak of many things pertaining to the Newsletter.

This is "my" fifth issue, yet seldom, if ever, do I speak of it as mine. The production of the Newsletter is certainly a group effort, with many people contributing to its development. So now, as editors are prone to do, I want to thank those people who have done so much to help me edit this publication. The following list, looking somewhat like a team roster, includes those that deserve special thanks.

- Jane, my wife. Last summer we put "my" first issue together on our kitchen floor. She did the layout, designed the front page, and the logo.
- Barbara Pitman. Fortunately for Jane, Barbara joined the Learning Resources staff at Jefferson State as graphic artist and has supervised the Newsletter layout ever since. A talented artist, she also, incidentally, designed the AJCCA billboards (you'll soon see them around the state) and the Convention program.
- Hank Manning. Fortunately for Barbara, Hank's artistically keen eye and steady hand have relieved some of the pressures of Newsletter deadlines. Hank functions as Barbara's assistant at Jefferson State.

- Linda Phillips. The indefatigable Linda operates the IBM MT/SC typesetting machine at Jefferson State. The fact that she knows how to operate the computer-like machine is commendable in itself. The fact that she must work with me, be attuned to deadlines, and still deliver quality type is exceptionally commendable.
- Sue Copeland. An often difficult job is deciphering my chicken-scratches, transcribing audiotapes taken from interviews, and typing numerous letters. The Jefferson State Learning Resources secretary, Sue, is a remarkably efficient and helpful soul.
- Ronnie Callaway. No doubt a descendent of Benjamin Franklin, Ronnie is the printer at Jefferson State. Somehow, he performs the magic of printing 4000 Newsletter copies per issue.
- Dr. Les Sims. As President of the AJCCA, he's contributed much to the development of the Newsletter, and has been an extremely valuable source of help and guidance for me.

And a special thanks to all the readers who contributed to the Newsletter during the year.
